GREATVIEW

Greatview Aseptic Packaging Manufacturing GmbH, Halle (Saale), Germany

Halle (Saale) Factory

Halle (Saale) is one of the fastest growing regions in eastern Germany. The A14 industrial area is adjacent to the Halle-Ost exit on highway A14 (Dresden-Halle-Magdeburg), close to the A9 (Munich-Halle-Berlin). Halle-Leipzig airport is 12 km away.

In 2011, Greatview began building its first factory outside of China, in Halle(Saale), Germany with an investment of 50 million euros. Greatview's group annual capacity rose. Halle represents a long-term commitment to dairy and beverage companies in this region and in neighboring markets. We offer a liquid food industry choice that creates real value.

This state-of-the-art converting factory is located in Halle (Saale), Germany, at the geographic heart of Europe, close to major road, rail and air transport hubs. The factory serves as the group's primary exporting facility, supplying packaging material to customers in Europe, the Americas, Russia and CIS, Middle East, Africa, Asia and Oceania. The factory has been in operation since 2013 with a major expansion in 2017, representing an investment of over 88 million euros. Our plants are constructed to minimise energy and resource use. Examples are reusing process heat, recycling of process material, natural lighting, rainwater collection and carbon accounting in construction.

For consumers and customers we both increase the affordability of essential foodstuffs, while setting benchmarks in environmental responsibility. 100% of production from our German factory is using certified FSC™ paperboard as being sourced from responsible sources. To support our customers around the world, Greatview maintains an experienced and knowledgeable team of managers and technicians. With an average industry experience of more than 15 years in aseptic packaging, our employees are dedicated to service our customers quickly, competently and professionally. Greatview maintains representation in most countries in the world.

Greatview contributes directly in the communities where we operate. We support local charities, offer internships for local schools and universities, foster trade apprenticeships and participate in regional community activities such as tree planting.
